13 Fall Decorating Ideas That Last All Season Long

Spruce up your home for fall with layers of cozy, autumnal elements that will take you all the way from the start of the season through Thanksgiving.

- A Charming Fall Entryway - Layers of harvest-inspired elements, like glass pumpkins, organic textures and a natural wreath, add autumnal charm to this quaint entryway for the season.
- Layered Wreath - Doors aren't the only places for hanging wreaths. Get creative with your fall decor by layering wreaths onto year-round pieces.
- Bare Tree Accents - Bring a touch of natural fall style to your home with a sculptural, tree-shaped coat rack.
- Glass Pumpkins - If you’re short on time for carving your own pumpkins this season, consider no-maintenance alternatives.
- Cozy Accent Rugs - Change your underfoot for the cold-weather seasons with a simple swap of thicker, more durable doormats and throw rugs.
- Warm Welcoming - Bring a touch of ambiance to your front porch with iron lanterns. For maximum visual impact, group the lanterns together and choose coordinating pillar candles.
- Wheat Bundles - Take a classic, organic approach to your fall decorating with bales of wheat. Near entryways and doors, group wheat in various heights and odd numbers for a simple yet sculptural look.
- Candle Grouping - Add a grouping of colored pillar candles on a console or entryway table that vary in heights and hues. It's simple and inviting.
- Cut Berries - Not sure what kind of flowers to showcase this fall? Use cut berry branches right from your yard!
- Rustic Touches - Add woodsy touches to your fall decor with rustic accents.
- Vintage Charm - Put cherished heirlooms on display by grouping collected items together and adding seasonal flair with flowers, greenery or organic finds from your yard.
- Potted Greenery - If you're looking to add a centerpiece to your table without the expense of cut floral, consider using potted greenery.
- Floor Hurricanes - Add ambiance to any corner with floor hurricane lamps. To keep the look balanced, group the lamps in alternating heights.
